2026 Baycurrent Classic Message Document

Tournament Focus

Baycurrent Classic Returns: Established in 2019, the Baycurrent Classic is the first and only PGA Tour event held in Japan. Baycurrent, Japan's leading comprehensive consulting firm based in Tokyo, aims to showcase the world's best players to an expanding local audience, promote Japan and its rising talent on the international golf stage and strengthen commercial partnerships across the region.

Yokohama Country Club: Yokohama returns as host to the Baycurrent Classic for the second consecutive year. Located approximately 25 miles south of Tokyo, Yokohama is widely regarded as one of the top courses in Japan. Yokohama Country Club was established in 1960 as a 36-hole facility designed by the late Takeo Aiyama. The tournament will be held with an original routing that combines 16 holes from the West Course and two holes from the East Course.

Local Presenting Sponsor: The tournament features a local presenting sponsor, LEXUS. The reference of "Baycurrent Classic presented by LEXUS" should only be used in Japan, while "Baycurrent Classic" reference to be used in all other markets.

Engaging the Tour's Japan Fanbase: The Baycurrent Classic's success is rooted in the passion and engagement of Japanese golf fans, who create one of the most unique atmospheres on the PGA Tour. While spectators eagerly embrace the opportunity to watch hometown hero Hideki Matsuyama compete, their enthusiasm extends to the entire field, reflecting a deep appreciation for the world's best players and the chance to see elite PGA Tour golf up close. This connection between the fans and the sport has helped make the Baycurrent Classic one of the Tour's premier international events and a showcase for world-class golf in Japan. To further enhance the fan experience, this year's event includes several additions and improvements:

- The 18th green has been redesigned to accommodate larger spectator areas, creating an even more dynamic atmosphere around one of the tournament's most exciting viewing locations.
- Monday will be open to the public for the first time since 2022, and a second spectator entrance gate has been added to improve access and crowd flow throughout the week.
- For the first time in tournament history, live concert performances and fireworks shows will take place. A live performance by Shonan no Kaze on Friday, October 9, and a 1,500-shot fireworks display on Saturday, October 10.
- The official merchandise shop will feature 20 brand collaborations, up from 16 in 2025 and the most in event history.

- The tournament will feature a stamp rally (stamp passport) with seven locations throughout the tournament grounds. Fans who collect stamps from four locations can receive a tournament-exclusive gift.
- A second Fan Zone has been introduced, significantly expanding interactive activities and entertainment offerings for fans of all ages, from families and children to avid golf enthusiasts.
 - Fan Zone A: Fan Zone A, located near 11 Tee, will feature a variety of activities (both golf related and not), including a roughly 10-meter long-putt challenge, a timed golf challenge where spectators can compete with a friend, golf pinball, corn hole, custom golf-marker making, air bouldering and basketball. The activities are designed to be both accessible and enjoyable regardless of golf experience.
 - Fan Zone B: Across the way from the Practice Areas, Fan Zone B will feature TARGET GOLF, where fans can hit actual golf shots toward color-coded targets positioned up to approximately 90 yards away and compete for points. Limited-edition prizes will be awarded for people who earn high points.
- The Gallery Plaza is located just past the Main Gate and will be the main food area with a concession stand and several special restaurant offerings:
 - Akasaka Raimon: One of Tokyo's most difficult-to-book yakiniku restaurants, serving a special yakiniku rice bowl and beef tongue sausage.
 - TACUBO: Popular Italian restaurant offering handmade Bolognese pasta, mentaiko French bread and gelato.
 - Enten: Toriyaki (chicken yakiniku) restaurant known as one of Hideki Matsuyama's regular spots, serving grilled chicken and its signature chicken miso stew.
 - NOZY COFFEE – Specialty coffee, including hot/iced coffee and café lattes.
 - Kokitsune – Popular Nishiazabu inari sushi, available in limited quantities from the main concession (3 flavor assortment).

Competitions Storylines

Showcasing Japan's best: The Baycurrent Classic will continue its tradition of providing opportunities for up-and-coming players from Japan to test their skills against the best players on the PGA Tour. There are 14 players from Japan in the field, including PGA Tour members Ryo Hisatsune, Takumi Kanaya, Hideki Matsuyama and Keita Nakajima.

- Since the inception of the Baycurrent Classic in 2019, six different players from Japan have finished inside the top 10, with Takumi Kanaya posting a T4 finish in 2025: Hideki Matsuyama (1st/2021, 2nd/2019), Ryo Ishikawa (T4/2023), Kensei Hirata (T6/2023), Ryo Hisatsune (T6/2023), Yuta Sugiura (T6/2024), Takumi Kanaya (T7/2021, T4/2025).

Hideki Matsuyama Amateur Challenge: For the second year, the Hideki Matsuyama Amateur Challenge offered 16 top-ranked amateurs the opportunity to compete for a spot in the field at the Baycurrent Classic. Held at Yokohama Country Club from Sept. 25-26, 18-year-old amateur Koshin Nagasaki, who plays collegiately at Tohoku University, won the event to secure his first career PGA Tour start. Koshin caddied for his younger brother, Taisei, at the 2026 Sony Open in Hawaii.

Presidents Cup participants featured: Two weeks removed from the 2026 Presidents Cup at Medinah Country Club, 13 participants (8 International, 5 U.S.) will tee it up in Japan: Christiaan

Bezuidenhout, Jacob Bridgeman, Wyndham Clark, Nico Echavarria, Ryo Hisatsune, Sungjae Im, Min Woo Lee, Hideki Matsuyama, Collin Morikawa, Xander Schauffele, Adam Scott, Nick Taylor, Justin Thomas

Xander returns: 10-time PGA Tour winner Xander Schauffele seeks his first win on Tour since last year's Baycurrent Classic, where he posted a final-round 64 to win by one stroke over Max Greyserman. Schauffele's connection to Japan is well-documented and views the country as a second home for him. His mother was raised in Tokyo, and his maternal grandparents were on hand to witness the victory in 2025, creating added meaning to the win for Schauffele.

FedExCup Fall continues: The Baycurrent Classic represents the third of eight events during the 2026 FedExCup Fall. A victory in any 2026 FedExCup Fall event comes with a two-year winner's exemption and secures a player's position on the PGA Tour Championship Series in 2028. Improved status means greater access to tournaments, including Full-Field Events (top 100) or the opportunity to qualify for the first two Signature Events via the Aon Next 10 (Nos. 51-60). With the new competitive structure being implemented in 2028, the stakes are higher than ever, leading to stronger fields and heightened competition as players vie for valuable playing status heading into the 2027 season.

Player Priorities

Hideki Matsuyama: 2021 Baycurrent Classic champion seeks his first top-10 in the event since his victory in 2021. Also finished runner-up to Tiger Woods in the tournament's debut in 2019. Matsuyama, who finished the 2026 regular season with top-10 finishes in four of his final six starts, is looking to avoid a winless season on Tour for just the second time since 2021 (other: 2023).

Wyndham Clark: At No. 5 in the Official World Golf Ranking, the reigning U.S. Open champion is the highest-ranked player in the field. Clark will make his fifth career tournament appearance, finishing T48 in the event's debut at Yokohama in 2025.

Jordan Spieth: Making his first start in Japan since the tournament's debut in 2019, Spieth returns to PGA Tour competition for the first time since the FedEx St. Jude Championship in August. At No. 55 in the FedExCup Fall standings, Spieth will look to remain inside Nos. 51-60 through the FedExCup Fall to earn starts in the first two Signature Events of 2027 at the AT&T Pebble Beach Pro-Am and The Genesis Invitational via the Aon Next 10.

Collin Morikawa: 2023 Baycurrent Classic champion is coming off a 2-2-0 record at the Presidents Cup, including a key Singles victory over Hideki Matsuyama. Morikawa's father, Blaine, is a Japanese-American born in Hawaii.
